ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY 340
Course Description:
A study of a variety of behavioral abnormalities in children and adults. This study will take place within a historical overview of explanations applied to abnormal behavior and modes of treatment which logically followed from such explanations. A practicum is required. (Prerequisite: PSY 101F4)

Course Overview and Objectives:
1. Be able to articulate the differences between “abnormal” and “normal” behavior.
2. Gain knowledge and understanding of the causes, diagnoses, and treatment of major psychological disorders from a historical, biological, and psychological perspective.
3. Gain awareness of the controversial issues and major theoretical explanations of disorders in the field of clinical and counseling psychology.
4. Examine and critique current research on psychological disorders.
5. Acquire knowledge about one’s own psychological functioning and gain more self-awareness.
6. Describe and examine the effectiveness of various forms of treatment.
7. Obtain hands-on experience in the field through the practicum placement.

Abnormal Psychology 340 Description of Tests & Assignments
Dr. Meera Rastogi

Service Learning Project
All students are required to complete 20 hours of service work at a location that works with individuals with mental illness.

Checklist for this assignment includes:
_____ A. Completion of five academic reflection reports (on-line) OR three 1-page summaries (THESE MUST BE TURNED IN THROUGHOUT THE SEMESTER)
_____ B. Supervisor Form
_____ C. Log of hours

Please see web site for ideas for possible organizations.

Exams
The three exams in Psychology 340 will consist of the following items:
- Short answers, matching, identification, multiple choice, and/or fill in the blank
- The exams may include a take home portion (current event summary or case analysis).

MAKE UP EXAMS WILL NOT BE GIVEN WITHOUT A DOCUMENTED EXCUSE BY A MEDICAL PROFESSIONAL OR APPROPRIATE PERSON.

Please see web site for ideas for study guides.

Abnormal Psychology Progressive Paper (PP) Assignment
Definition:
The progressive paper includes in-class lectures, training in peer editing, exercises to build on previous versions of the paper, and time for revisions of earlier drafts. The progressive paper emulates writing in the real world where “There is no good writing, only good rewriting” (Hull, 1985; as cited by McGovern & Hogshead, 1990, p. 7).

The progressive paper consists for 5 parts; each piece is graded separately. You will receive mini trainings, lecture, and descriptions for each part of the paper. The goal of your final paper is to increase your formal writing skills by writing a polished, articulate, and well developed research paper on a topic of your choice.

Parts:
1) Peer editing on the rough draft
2) Part 1 of the paper
3) Research addition rough draft to be evaluated in one on one meeting
4) Peer editing of final draft

Abnormal Psychology Spring 2007
Social Issues and Cases
I have chosen several social issues related to abnormal psychology. These are controversial/current issues in the field that we will analyze using class material.

Cases are real life events that relate to class material. We will discuss these cases at length examining the history, presenting problem and outcome. Then we will apply course material to enhance our understanding of the case.

Readings/audio/video tapes may be assigned to enhance our class discussions.

Attendance and Participation
In-class exercises will be done each day and will count towards your class attendance. Three unexcused absences are allowed, after the 3, half of a letter grade of your final grade will be deducted for additional absences. If you miss more than 6 classes during this course, you will receive a failing grade for the course.

CLASS MEETINGS:
• Please try to be on time. If late, come in without disturbing the rest of the students. If absent, obtain notes from a classmate.
• You are responsible for everything that is covered in every class.
• Please come prepared to learn about abnormal psychology.
• Be considerate of classmates and instructor. Ask questions when necessary, but do not talk and disrupt class. If necessary, I might need to ask a student to leave the room if disruptive.

STUDY SUGGESTIONS:
1) Peers: Your peers can be your greatest help. You may want to meet weekly to review notes and topics covered in-class or you can join a study group and meet before exam dates. A course list of students and phone numbers will be distributed during the first 2 weeks of class.

2) Office Hours:
Please make an appointment if you have questions, or just want to chat. I love to work with students and would be delighted to see you during office hours (Tuesdays by appointment). You may contact me at the following locations:
Work: 110C DeRicci 663-3376
E-mail: mraostogi@edgewood.edu

3) Students with Disabilities:
If you have a documented disability which requires accommodations in this course, please contact Learning Support Services, located in the Student Resource Center in DeRicci 206, 663-2281 where LSS will provide appropriate accommodations and all information will be kept confidential.

4) Learning Support Services:
Learning Support Services, located in DeRicci 206 (The Student Resource Center), provides academic support for students. Peer tutoring is available in some introductory-level undergraduate courses. Individual assistance in time management, study skills, and test-taking skills is also available. Please contact Learning Support Services at 663-2281 for more information.

(5) Counseling Services:
Counseling services are free to Edgewood College students. Contact Janet Billerbeck, M.A. at 663-2287.

(6) Writing help:
If you need help writing papers please contact Angela Woodward, out writing specialist at 663-3293.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT:
- Every student is expected to behave ethically in this class. Academic misconduct is a serious offense that will not be tolerated.
- Plagiarism will be handled according to College policies. If you do not cite material from the source you can be accused of plagiarism. Please consult the APA Manual (5th Edition) for correct forms of citations.
- If you are caught plagiarizing (cutting and pasting information from the internet, buying papers, using old papers, etc.) you will receive a failing grade on the assignment and a letter will be sent to the Assistant Academic Dean, the Chair of the Psychology Department, and your academic advisor. If students are caught cheating this will result in automatic failure in the course.
- Even if I review a rough draft of a paper this does not ensure you an A for the assignment. Consult extra help on assignments to improve the quality of your work.

Policy on late papers:
Late papers are an inconvenience for me, and are unfair to your classmates; therefore LATE PAPERS WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED WITHOUT A MEDICAL EXCUSE OR APPROPRIATE DOCUMENTATION.

Students may be asked to withdraw from the course if:
- Student’s actions or behaviors are preventing others from learning.
- Student is disruptive due to inappropriate behavior or inability to function effectively in a classroom setting.
- Student is taking an inordinate amount of instructor time or class time.
- Student has unrealistic expectations of course or professor.

Conclusion- summary of major points
Abnormal Psychology: Practicum Project SP 07

Requirements:
- All students are required to complete 20 hours of observations, 20 hours of attendance of course-related workshops/lectures outside of class, or 20 hours of service work at a location with consumers of mental health services.
- Students will be required to attend class for 3 hours per week and are given the other hour per week to work towards the practicum project (4 credit hour course: 1 credit SL and 3 credits class).

Rationale:
- The practicum project is designed to help students see abnormal psychology in the real world.
- Your experience(s) will give you a contact in the community which can help for future work/ internships.
