Table of Contents

Introduction ........................................................................................................... 19

Section I, Advising .................................................................................................. 22

Experiencing and Teaching Personal Well-being ........................................................ 23
Debra Park, PTL Rutgers University, Camden, NJ

Providing Effective Graduate School Advising to Undergraduate Students in Psychology: A Workshop to Identify Effective Practices ................................................................................................. 25
Robert Schatz and Pamela Ansburg, Metropolitan State University of Denver

Models for Advising Students about the Graduate School Application Process: A Roundtable Discussion ......................................................................................................................... 27
Robert T. Schatz and Pamela I. Ansburg, Metropolitan State University of Denver

To Go or Not to Go: Graduate Study in Psychology .................................................... 30
Talegria Brown, Kinsey Bolinder, Eric Barlow, Matthew Genuchi, and R. Eric Landrum
Boise State University

Section II, Assessment ............................................................................................. 33

Assessing Students’ Written Communication Skills in Social Sciences .......................... 34
D. Flynn and J. Seeley, Luzerne County Community College

A Measure of Academic Maturity in College Students ................................................ 35
William E. Addison, Erin L. McElroy, Sydney L. Rohmann, Trevor Levingston, & Gary L. Canivez
Eastern Illinois University

APA Goal #5 Professional Development: Assessment Outcomes for Sophomore and Senior Psychology Majors .......................................................................................................................... 38
Eric Barlow, Talegria Brown, Kinsey Bolinder, and R. Eric Landrum, Boise State University

Building Bridges: Teaching and Assessment in GE Courses ...................................... 41
Melissa Beers and Kristie Harris, Ohio State University

Assessing Student Achievement with Applied Assignments: How to Get Good Data from Assignments Students Are Interested in ............................................................................ 43
Mukul Bhalla, Argosy University, Washington D.C.

Effects of Free vs. Cued Recall and Open vs. Closed Book Recall on Immediate and Delayed Quiz Performance .................................................................................................................. 45
Jeffrey Nevid & Yea Seul Pyun, St. John University

Testing Our Beliefs about Testing ............................................................................... 46
Jeffrey D. Holmes, Ithaca College

How Do You Know If Your Learning Objectives Are Being Met? Instructor Versus Student Perceptions .......................................................................................................................... 49
Anne C. Wilson, Kristie M. Harris, Melissa Beers, The Ohio State University

Making the Most of Self-Assessment: The Importance of Pre- and Post-Exam Reflection ................................................................................................................................. 50
Kyle E. Conlon, Kylee Kudera, & Lauren E. Brewer
Stephen F. Austin State University

Measuring Metacognitive Calibration Accuracy Across Exams and Question Type ........................................................................................................... 51
Jimmeka Guillory, Spelman College

Case Study: Developing and Maintaining a Content Valid Program Assessment at a Community College ......................................................................................................................... 52
Judith Nichols, Lincoln Land Community College

Assessing Learning Across Pedagogical Modalities For Community College Learners in Introductory Psychology ............................................................................................................. 56
Dominic J. Carbone, Sussex Co. Community College Newton, New Jersey
Teaching Psychological Assessment: Instructor Expectations and Grading Practices .............................................. 66
Hadas Pade¹, Matthew Baity², Steve Smith³, Caitlin Andrews⁴, Christy Hobza⁵, Gerald Michaels¹
California School of Professional Psychology, San Francisco Campus¹, California School of Professional,
Psychology, Sacramento Campus², University of California-Santa Barbara³, The Wright Institute⁴,
American School of Professional Psychology at Argosy University, San Francisco Bay Area⁵
Put Your Pencils Down: How to Implement Computer-Based Assessments .............................................................. 68
Kristie M. Harris, Anne C. Wilson, Melissa Beers, The Ohio State University
Trading Effectiveness for Efficiency: Methods of Classroom Quizzing ................................................................. 69
Cynthia L. Wooldridge, Eileen E. Joy, Brian M. Stran, and Kelsey M. Moffitt, Washburn University
Value-Added Program Assessment in the Psychology Classroom ............................................................ 70
R. Eric Landrum ¹, Eric Amsel ², Richard L. Miller ³, Jeanne Miller ⁴, Susan E. Becker ⁵
Boise State University ¹ Webster State University ² Texas A&M University- Kingsville ³
Catalina Consulting ⁴ Colorado Mesa University ⁵
Introductory Psychology for General Education Assessment .............................................................................. 71
Kathryn M. Westcott & J. Mark McKellep, Juniata College
Special Challenges in the APA Guidelines 2.0 ......................................................................................................... 74
Kathryn M. Westcott, J. Mark McKellep, Philip T. Dunwood, Juniata College
Section III, Capstone Courses .......................................................................................................................... 77
Psychology Peer Mentors: Capstone Students Mentoring Introduction to Psychology Students ..........76
Christine L. Allegretti and NMelinda S. Harper, Queens University of Charlotte
History as Capstone: Teaching History of Psychology to Maximize its Value as a Capstone Class ..........79
Eric Amsel, Weber State University
Brian Cox, Hostra University
William Douglas Woody, University of Northern Colorado
Designing and Assessing the Capstone or Outcomes Course in Psychology .................................................. 83
Maria Mouratidis, Notre Dame of Maryland University
Reducing Research Anxiety in a Senior Thesis Psychology Course .............................................................. 85
Terry F. Pettijohn and Olivia B. Olawsky, Coastal Carolina University
The Psychology Capstone as an Interdisciplinary Course: A Case Study ....................................................... 86
Kristin M. Vespia, University of Wisconsin - Green Bay
Section IV, Clinical/Counseling Psychology ...................................................................................................... 89
Applicability and Outcomes of a Case-Based Learning Format in a Doctoral Level Theories of Counseling Course ........................................................................................................................................... 89
Bret Ringdahl and Rosemary Phelps, The University of Georgia
Preparing Doctoral Psychology Students for Practice in Integrated Care Settings I:
Interprofessional Education ............................................................................................................................. 91
Steven A. Hobbs, Mercer University Health Sciences Center
Mark A. Stillman, Mercer University Health Sciences Center & Georgia Gwinnett College
Preparing Doctoral Psychology Students for Practice in Integrated Care Settings II: A Primary
Care Psychology Curriculum ............................................................................................................................. 95
Mark A. Stillman, Mercer University Health Sciences Center & Georgia Gwinnett College
Steven A. Hobbs, Mercer University Health Sciences Center
Learning Assessment, Treatment and Prevention of Suicidality via Role-Play .............................................. 99
John L. Theodore, Iona College
James M. Macchia, Binghamton University
Utilizing Standardized Patients in Psychology Training Programs ............................................................... 102
Dana Weiss, Nova Southeastern University
Section V, Cognitive Psychology/Learning

A Critical Evaluation of the Use of Operant Conditioning in the Show “Lucky Dog” ............................ 105
Debra K. Stein, Widener University

Attention Improves Free-Recall: A General Psychology Demonstration ................................................. 107
Daniel F.A. Hitchcock
Regent University

Cognitive Psychology Project: Applying Cognitive Psychology to Help Others ........................................... 110
Kieth A. Carlson, Valparaiso University

Operant and Classical Conditioning of Rescue Dogs .................................................................................. 111
Debra Stein, Widener University

Rubric for Critical Thinking ..................................................................................................................... 111
Debra Stein, Widener University

A Sense of Belonging: How Important is it for Learning about Race and Gender? ................................. 114
Cyndi Kernahan and Melanie Ayres, University of Wisconsin-River Falls

Section VI, Critical Thinking ...................................................................................................................... 115

A within-instructor evaluation of three scientific thinking modules: Description of activities and evaluation .............................................................. 116
Courtney Stevens, Melissa R. Witkow, Rick Laughlin, Rachelle L. Yankelevitz, Willamette University

Improve with Metacognition: A Collaborative Website Resource .......................................................... 117
Lauren Scharff, U. S. Air Force Academy
John Draeger, SUNY Buffalo State
Aaron S. Richmond, Metropolitan State University

Measuring APA Goal 2: Critical Thinking and the Psychology Major ...................................................... 119
Kinsey Bolinder, Eric Barlow, Talegria Brown, R. Eric Landrum
Boise State University

69 Mind Blowing Ways to Peer Review the Internet! ................................................................................. 121
Justice Morath, Salt Lake Community College

A pre-test/post-test evaluation of scientific thinking modules for Introductory Psychology in two distinct college environments ............................................................................................. 125
Melissa R. Witkow, Courtney Stevens, and Brenna Smelt, Willamette University
Kathryn Becker-Blease Oregon State University

Section VII, Developmental Psychology ..................................................................................................... 127

Best Toys for Babies: An Authentic Application and Assessment Activity .............................................. 128
Lyn Boulter, Catawba College

Using Experimenting with Babies for Active Learning in Developmental Psychology Course .......... 130
Mary Ann Fischer, Abigail Rosa, Indiana University Northwest

Teaching Schema Theory with Hula Hoops .............................................................................................. 133
Lisa Kindleberger-Hagan, Metropolitan State University of Denver

Section VIII, Ethics ............................................................................................................................................. 135

Psychology Education: A Path to Human Rights and Social Responsibility .......................................... 136
Linda M. Woolf, Webster University

Ethical Reasoning as an Instructional Objective ...................................................................................... 139
Charles M. Harris & Shenghua Zha, James Madison University

Section IX, Gender ........................................................................................................................................... 141

Collaborative Research: An Outgrowth of Active Learning .................................................................... 142
Susan H. Howell, Campbellsville University
Cameron D. Schatt, University of Tennessee at Chattanooga
Computer Programming Instruction: Usability and Attitudes as a Function of Gender
Meghan Weiman & Laura Bowman, Central Connecticut State University

Section X, History of Psychology
The Interplay Between Psychology and Society: Using Psychology Today as a Teaching Tool in the History of Psychology
Jean E. Giebenhain, Erica Zimmerman, Kayla Null-Gracia, Lauren Taylor-Sharp, Johanna Younce, Elizabeth Dorow, Danielle Freedly, Ashley Bauman, Michaela Schlein, Ellen Musser, and Eliza Samuelson, University of St. Thomas

Section XI, Interdisciplinary Studies
Distributive Justice: Engaging Students with a Story About Scientific Research, an Appealing Activity, and an Animated Discussion of Psychology’s Relevance to Social Justice
Kevin H. Grobman, California State University, Monterey Bay

Teaching Introductory Psychology Case Studies with a Social Justice Application
Kathleen F. Laity, Grand Canyon University
Alisa M. Beyer, Northern Arizona University

One Course is Not Enough: Integrating Sociocultural Learning Across the Psychology Curriculum
Alicia H. Nordstrom, Misericordia University

Using Psychology to Explore the Intersection of Science and Art
Daniel R. VanHorn, North Central College

Bridging the Gap: An Ecuadorian Adventure that built Interdisciplinary Connection
M. Katrina Smith and Cheryl L. Brown, Reinhardt University

Teaching at the Intersections of Psychology and Other Fields
Eric Amsel, Weber State University
Richard L. Miller, University of Texas A&M, Kingsville
William J. Wozniak, University of Nebraska at Kearney

Interdisciplinary Course on "The Good Life": Combining Psychological Inquiry and Philosophical Ethics for Psychological Science and Philosophy Majors
Heidi A. Wayment and Julie A Piering, Northern Arizona University

Section XII, Multiculturalism & Diversity
From College to the Community: Best Methods for Teaching Diversity to Undergraduate, Graduate, and Lifelong Learners
Jessye Cohen-Filipic, Ithaca College
Jennifer M. Taylor, University of Utah

I Am Because We Are: Effective Mentoring for African American Graduate Students
Shawndelia L. Drinkard, Alliant International University
Chelsie E. Dunn, Virginia Commonwealth University
Carlton W. Parks Jr., Alliant International University
Lekeisha A. Sumner, University of California, Los Angeles

Social Justice via Multicultural Teaching In-Context
Bryana H. French, University of St Thomas
Matthew R. Lee, James Madison University
Grace S. Kim, Wheelock College
Jesse Tauriac, Lasell College

From the Micro to the Macro: Training Psychologists to Be Multiculturally Competent through the Application of Faculty Research Expertise
Thomson J. Ling, Caldwell University
Kathleen Keefe-Cooperman, LIU Post
Peggy Brady-Amoon and Pamela F. Foley, Seton Hall University
“Helping You Helps Me” —Targeting APA’s Diversity & Communication Goals through Undergraduate Teaching Assistantships

Kristel M. Gallagher, Thiel College
Recognizing Diversity: Veterans in Classrooms

Susan E. Becker, Colorado Mesa University
Travis Heath, Metropolitan State University of Denver
Roxanne Sullivan, Bellevue University
William Douglas Woody, University of Northern Colorado

Challenging Social Categorization While Building Classroom Trust

Bradley Stern, Consumnes River College
Training for Multicultural Competence and Social Justice Advocacy: Past and Present Strategies and Implications for Educators

J. Scott Branson, Wayne State University
Ashley N. Branson, Oakland University
Peter I. Kranz, University of Texas-Pan American

Using The “Values Walk” To Set a Tone During the First Week of Class

Phyllis Wentworth, Wentworth Institute of Technology
The Power of Memoirs and Autobiographies: Enhancing Perspective-Taking in Diversity Courses

Jennifer Willard, Kennesaw State University

Section XIII, Neuroscience

Teaching Neuroscience

Echo Leaver, Salisbury University
Trisha Prunty, Lindenwood University
Jeffrey Sable, Christian Brothers University
Linda Walsh, University of Northern Iowa

Ataxic Neurodegenerative Satiety Deficiency Syndrome (ANSDS): Using Zombies to Make Neuropsychology Palatable!

Steve Barney, Southern Utah University
Steven C. Schlozman, Harvard University

The Use of Portable Physiological Equipment in Psychological Teaching

Drew M. Morris and June J. Pilcher, Clemson University

Bringing the Brain in the Classroom: Evaluations of Budget-Friendly Approaches to Neuroscience in Liberal Arts Classrooms

Robert G. Franklin, Jr., Anderson University

Section XIV, Online Teaching

Preventing Boundaries in Online Education Through Social Connectedness a Collaborative Spirit

R. Felicia Banks, ITT Technical Institute

A Retrospective of 25 Years Teaching Online: Secrets, Advice and the Future

Diane L. Finley, Prince George’s Community College

Teaching Psychology 101 Online: Compatible with the Small, Liberal Arts College Environment?

Erika Bagley, Muhlenberg College

The Impact of Communication Variation on GPA in an Online Class

Garth Neufeld, Highline College

Evidence That Psychology Labs can be Taught in Online Course Delivery
Best-Practices for Teaching Introductory Psychology Online: Facilitating Student Achievement Through Due Dates.................................................................................................................. 224
Alexander T. Shappie ¹ and Scott M. Debb ²
Virginia Consortium Program in Clinical Psychology ¹, Norfolk State University ²

Students’ Reactions to Replacing Online Discussion Forums with Course Blogs................................................................. 225
Ian M. MacFarlane, Austin College

It’s all about the Practicum...No Brick, No Mortar .................................................................................................................. 226
Julee S. Poole and Tricia Berry, Kaplan University

Performance and Perceptions Across a Traditional and Online Introductory Psychology Course ...... 228
Lisa J. Schulte, Xavier University of Louisiana

Enhancing Teaching Effectiveness: Flipped Classrooms, Online Instruction, Cultural Competence.... 232
Deborah C. Stearns, Montgomery College
Andrea M. Brown, College of Southern Nevada
Renee Galbavy, El Camino College

Gamifying an Online Classroom: Does it Enhance Student Motivation and Engagement? .......... 233
Chelsea Lovejoy and Alicia Stachowski, University of Wisconsin – Stout

The Essence of Being an Online Education Student ................................................................. 235
Amanda Atwater Jacobs, University of Northern Colorado

Section XV, Pedagogy .............................................................................................................................................................. 237

Something for Everyone: Practical Instructional Strategies and Student Learning Activities for AP Psychology using the APA National Standards for High school Psychology Curricula........... 239
Geraldine A. Acquard, Howard Community College & Walter Johnson High School
Nico F. McCarn, Walter Johnson High School

Maybe It Isn’t In The Textbook: Strategies For Helping Students Apply Class Material ............... 242
Brien K. Ashdown, Hobart & William Smith Colleges
Jana Hackathorn, Murray State University
Stephanie E. Afful, Lindenwood University
Carrie M. Brown, Agnes Scott College

Blogs Help Students Engage and Apply in Introductory Psychology .................................................... 246
Joshua Wede, Pennsylvania State University

Stereotyped Advertisements in the Digital Age: An Authentic Learning Activity ........................................ 247
Lyn Boulter, Catawba College

A Team-Based Approach to Teaching Introductory Psychology .......................................................... 250
Christie Cathey, Danae Hudson, and Brooke Whisenhunt, Missouri State University

Perceived Benefits of Serving as an Undergraduate Learning Assistant for Introductory Psychology ................................................... 251
Christie Cathey, Bradley Fisher, Brooke Whisenhunt, Dallin Kimball, Danae Hudson, and Ann Rost, Missouri State University

Creating Change: Examples of Action Teaching and How to Apply it in Your Classroom .............. 252
Irene Daboin and Ashlyn Swartout, Georgia State University

Learner-centered teaching, teaching with technology (apps), and pedagogy ........................................ 255
Kristen A. Diliberto-Macaluso and Alan Hughes, Berry College

Mind the Gap: Using Mindfulness and Other Contemplative Pedagogies with Your Students ...... 256
Elizabeth Hope Dorman and Judy Austin, Fort Lewis College

The “True Life” Series: A Media Resource for Connecting and Teaching with Undergraduate Students ........................................................................................................... 260
Jacki Fitzpatrick, Texas Tech University

Applied psychology & teaching ................................................................................................................................. 268
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Author</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Georgeana Stratton</td>
<td>Getting Ahead with Ted-Ed</td>
<td>270</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nester Mathews, Denison University</td>
<td>Recoup the Group: Using Groups Effectively in your Classroom</td>
<td>271</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Leslie Goldstein, Fort Lewis College</td>
<td>Mindfulness in the Undergraduate Classroom</td>
<td>274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Amanda Grieme Bradley PhD, Trevecca Nazarene University</td>
<td>Integrating a Skills-Focus in Introductory Psychology</td>
<td>275</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Erin E. Hardin, University of Tennessee, Knoxville</td>
<td>Improving College Courses with the Use of Student Management Teams</td>
<td>280</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jordan Troisi, Sewanee: The University of the South</td>
<td>Institutional Benefits Associated with Course Redesign</td>
<td>281</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Danae L. Hudson, Brooke L. Whisenhunt, Christie Cathey, Michelle E. Visio, Ann D. Rost, &amp; Carol F. Shoptaugh, Missouri State University</td>
<td>Sustainable Community Projects Improve Students’ Ecological Worldview</td>
<td>282</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kathleen Knights, Northern Arizona University</td>
<td>Experiential Extra Credit: More Than Just Making up Points</td>
<td>284</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julie Lazzara, Paradise Valley Community College</td>
<td>Beyond Databases: Psychology Information Literacy Across the Curriculum</td>
<td>287</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kimberly Miller, Towson University</td>
<td>Open Access Textbooks: The Good, the Bad, the Ugly</td>
<td>291</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Justice Morath, Salt Lake Community College</td>
<td>The Hero of Psyrule and Travels Through Developmental Earth: Gamification of Two Psychology Courses</td>
<td>294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Michelle P. Beechler, Adrian College</td>
<td>Promoting Teachers’ Use of Adaptation and Differentiation: Using the 9-Grid Tool in Content</td>
<td>295</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Francie Murry and Amanda Balcerak, University of Northern Colorado</td>
<td>Putting Students in Charge of Student Learning: Creating Eye-Tracking Lab Modules for a Psychology Curriculum</td>
<td>298</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lydia Craig¹, Nadita Elija¹, Thea Galli¹, Alena Hejl¹, Jacob Kraft², Brooke Lea¹, David Matz², Wilson Merrell¹, and Katherine Muschler¹, MacAlester College¹, Augsburg College²</td>
<td>Accessible Course Materials 101: Tips and Tricks Everyone Can Use</td>
<td>299</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anna Ropp, Bethany Fleck, and Courtney A. Rocheleau, Metropolitan State University of Denver</td>
<td>Sensitive Material in the Psychology Classroom: Trauma, Transformation, and Trigger Warnings</td>
<td>301</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Randi D. Smith and Javonne Archibeque, Metropolitan State University of Denver</td>
<td>Gaming Your Classroom</td>
<td>303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Michelle P. Beechler, Ph.D., Adrian College</td>
<td>Team Teaching</td>
<td>304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Phoebe S. Linn, Framingham State University</td>
<td>Experiences in Flipping the Classroom</td>
<td>308</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

¹Augsburg College
²MacAlester College
Amy J. Marin, Phoenix College
Bringing the Psychology of Social Issues to Life ................................................................. 342
Debra Mashek, Harvey Mudd College
Mental Tattoos: Course Design for Skill Development .......................................................... 343
Beth Morling, University of Delaware
Psychological Science News You Can Use ............................................................................ 344
David G. Myers, Hope College
New Ways of Thinking about Cognitive Development: Implications for Teaching .................. 345
Nora Newcombe, Temple University
The Sense of Style: Writing and Teaching in the 21st Century ............................................... 346
Steven Pinker, Harvard University
Using Blogging in the Teaching of Psychology .................................................................... 347
Samuel R. Sommers, Tufts University
Flipping the Psychology Classroom ..................................................................................... 348
Deborah Stearns, Montgomery College
Why Talking to Your Car Can Drive You to Distraction ....................................................... 349
David Strayer, University of Utah
If I Can See So Much, Why Do I Miss So Much? .................................................................. 350
Jeremy Wolfe, Harvard Medical School and Brigham & Women’s Hospital

Section XVI, Professional Development for Faculty ............................................................. 351
Do Community Engaged Activities Matter in Tenure and Promotion Evaluations? ................ 352
Eric Amsel, Valerie Herzog, and Brenda Kowalewski, Weber State University
The Psychology of Getting Hired: Bridging the Gap Between Academic Objectives and Professional Development .......................................................... 355
Scott Roberts, University of Maryland
RMPA Faculty Mentor Program: Advice to Faculty from Faculty .......................................... 356
Aaron S. Richmond, Layton Seth Curl, and Anna Ropp, Metropolitan State University of Denver William Douglas Woody, University of Northern Colorado
Big Five Personality Traits and Teaching Enjoyment Predict Teaching Performance ........ 358
Meera Komarraju, Stephen J. Dollinger, and Vilosh Veeramani, Southern Illinois University

Section XVII, Professional Development, for Students ......................................................... 359
A Class Designed to Facilitate the Accomplishment of Goals 4 & 5 of APA’s New Guidelines for the Undergraduate Psychology Major ............................................................ 360
Drew C. Appleby, Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis
Effectiveness of a Psychology Major Career Planning Course: Further Evidence .................. 361
Robin M. Bartlett, James H. Thomas, Nicole B. Stephenson, and Elizabeth E. Foote, Northern Kentucky University
Developing and Sustaining a Student-Driven Learning Center in Psychology on a Regional Campus ................................................................................................................. 364
Barbara B. Oswald and Kathryn H. Weidner, Miami University, Hamilton Campus
The Power of Authenticity ......................................................................................................... 367
Jill Sudak-Allison, Jesse Wilcox, and Josh Woods
Grand View University
Integrating Professional Development across the Curriculum: An Effectiveness Study ........ 368
Natalie J. Ciarocco, Lisa M. Dinella, Christine J. Hatchard, and Jayde Valosin, Monmouth University
Teaching a Seminar on Graduate School Applications and Careers in Psychology ............... 369
Theresa J. Martin, Eastern Washington University

11
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Authors</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>XVIII</td>
<td>Assessment of Career Development Outcomes in a Core Psychology Class</td>
<td>Kristin M. Vespia, Haily Hummelmeier, and Mackenzie Wink, University of Wisconsin–Green Bay</td>
<td>374</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Strategies for Implementing Professional Development Goals in an Undergraduate Curriculum</td>
<td>Morey Kitzmann and Alexis K. Bachik, Metropolitan State University of Denver</td>
<td>375</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>A Career Planning Course Reduces Psychology Majors’ Career Decision-Making Difficulties</td>
<td>James H. Thomas, Robin M. Bartlett, Nicole B. Stephenson, and Elizabeth E. Foote, Northern Kentucky University</td>
<td>377</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The Why and How to Teach Professional Development to Undergraduate Psychology Students</td>
<td>Stacie M. Spencer, MCPHS University and Aaron S. Richmond, Metropolitan State University of Denver</td>
<td>371</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Insanity in Introductory and Abnormal Psychology Textbooks: A Content</td>
<td>Jared M. Bartels, Missouri Valley College</td>
<td>381</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Analysis of the Rosenhan Study</td>
<td>Brian L. Burke, Fort Lewis College</td>
<td>382</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The Four Foundational Principles for Abnormal Psychology: M.A.P.S. of the Territory</td>
<td>Leslie D. Cramblet Alvarez, Adams State University</td>
<td>386</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Depression Quest: Using gaming to promote understanding in Abnormal Psychology</td>
<td>Dana C. Leighton, Southern Arkansas University</td>
<td>388</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Teaching Empathy for Schizophrenia Using Immersive Experience</td>
<td>Pauline “Polly” Lytle and Megan O’Banion, American School of Professional Psychology at Argosy University</td>
<td>392</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The Normal Mind on the Abnormal Brain: Using Graphic Novelization To</td>
<td>Patrick L. Smith, Leilani Goodman-Riley, Aimee Ferrara &amp; Andrew Rasmussen, Florida Southern College</td>
<td>393</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Enhance Understanding of Clinical Neuroscience Content</td>
<td>Amanda K. Sommerfeld, Washington College</td>
<td>396</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Flipped Out: Methods and Outcomes of Flipping Abnormal Psychology</td>
<td>Joe Hatcher, Ripon College</td>
<td>412</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>A Tale of Two Cohorts: Making class-“room” to accelerate student preparedness</td>
<td>Natalie J. Ciarocco, David B. Strohmets, and Gary W. Lewandowski, Jr., Monmouth University</td>
<td>400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The Marriage of Statistics and Research Methods</td>
<td>Dr. Gregory J. Privitera, St. Bonaventure University</td>
<td>404</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>A Tale of Two Cohorts: Making class-“room” to accelerate student preparedness</td>
<td>Mindy J. Erchull, University of Mary Washington</td>
<td>407</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Using Collaborative Learning and the Three Claims to Teach Research Methods in Introductory Psychology</td>
<td>Joe Hatcher, Ripon College</td>
<td>409</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Want to Internationalize Your Curriculum? Consider Taking a Class in Jamaica!</td>
<td>Mindy J. Erchull, University of Mary Washington</td>
<td>413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Using a Class Blog to Form a Virtual Community of Support for Undergraduate Interns and Community Service Learning Students</td>
<td>Natalie J. Ciarocco, David B. Strohmets, and Gary W. Lewandowski, Jr., Monmouth University</td>
<td>414</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Expect the Unexpected: Challenges and Rewards of Service-Learning</td>
<td>Dr. Gregory J. Privitera, St. Bonaventure University</td>
<td>416</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Do Cartoons on Syllabi affect Student Perceptions of Professors? ................................................................. 454
Bethany Fleck, Aaron S. Richmond, and Erik Boss, Metropolitan State University

Academic Achievement: What Students Perceive as Helping and Hindering Their Performance .......... 455
Mary Ellen Fromuth, Teresa Davis, David B. Kelly, Jeffery E. Bass, and Kin Leong Chan
Middle Tennessee State University

Read Your Book! An Investigation of Student Textbook Reading and Perceived Importance .................. 458
Scott Alan Hutchens, Stephen F. Austin State University
Tiffany Culver, Sul Ross State University – Rio Grande College

Is It Art? Or, Is It All About Me? .................................................................................................................... 462
Naif Aldawood and Francie Murry, University of Northern Colorado

Beyond Social Media: Library Instruction for Psychology Seniors ......................................................... 465
Boyd Koehler and Grace Dyrud, Augsburg College

The Ins and Outs of Publishing and the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (SoTL) in Psychology .. 467
Jamie G. McMinn, Westminster College
Dana S. Dunn, Moravian College

What is meant by cognitive structures? How does it influence teaching –learning of Psychology? .... 470
C. Girija Navaneedhan and T.J.KamalanabhanPost, Indian Institute of Technology, Madras, Chennai

Student Perception of Educational Experiences ......................................................................................... 474
Paul Scott, Rockhurst University

Puppy Power? Applying the Effect of Viewing Cute Images on Task Performance to the Classroom.. 477
Hannah L. Shoemaker and Chelsea A. Reid, College of Charleston

Targeting Students’ Strategy Use for Large Scale SRL Intervention Initiatives ........................................ 480
Rayne A. Sperling, D. Jake Follmer, and Elizabeth A. Adams, The Pennsylvania State University
Philip M. Reeves, Yale University

SPSS Use in Psychology Graduate Programs .............................................................................................. 484
Theresa A. Wadkins and Meghan O. Rockefeller, University of Nebraska at Kearney

Dual Credit of Incoming College Students: Implications for Psychology Programs ............................... 486
Donna Dahlgren, Indiana University Southeast

Learning analytics: Predicting student performance ....................................................................................... 497
Beth Dietz, Miami University

Showing Up is a Quarter of the Battle: Class Attendance Predicts Exam Performance and
Final Grades in Undergraduate Psychology Courses .................................................................................... 499
Rebecca D. Foushee & Todd Hennessy, Lindenwood University

Big Five Personality Traits and Teaching Enjoyment Predict Teaching Performance ............................. 501
Meera Komaraju, Stephen J. Dollinger, and Vilosh Veeramani, Southern Illinois University Carbondale

Building Successful Groups for Collaborative Learning Activities: The Importance of Trust .......... 502
Emily Stark and Andrea Lassiter, Minnesota State University, Mankato

The Psychology Capstone as an Interdisciplinary Course: A Case Study ................................................ 504
Kristin M. Vesapia, University of Wisconsin-Green Bay

Assessment of Career Development Outcomes in a Core Psychology Class ............................................. 505
Kristin M. Vesapia, Hailly Hummelmeier, and Mackenzie Wink, University of Wisconsin-Green Bay

How to Put on a Successful Conference Showcasing Student Research and Creativity ................................ 506
Diane E. Wille and Todd M. Manson, Indiana University Southeast

Trading Effectiveness for Efficiency: Methods of Classroom Quizzing .................................................... 507
Cynthia L. Wooldridge and Eileen Joy, Washburn University

Classroom Behavior and Non-Cognitive Factors Related to Course Success for Potential Early
Identification of Students Who Need Teacher Intervention ......................................................................... 508
Jennifer Wu & Philipp Kraemer, University of Kentucky

Does Placing Questions in Order of Difficulty Affect Exam Performance? .......................................................... 510

Tina R. Walker, David S. Kreiner, and Kimberly S. Stark, University of Central Missouri

Skills in Scientific Methodology: Are Faculty and Student Perceptions Related? ......................................................... 513

Adrienne L. Williamson, Jennifer Willard, and Pam Marek, Kennesaw State University

From Passive Learner to Active Participant: Examining the Effectiveness of Inter-Teaching ................................. 517

Peter Frost, Southern New Hampshire University

Psychology’s Burning Questions ........................................................................................................................................ 518

David M. Biek and Heather Ness, Middle Georgia State University

Russell Crowe is a Better Teacher than You: How Movies Outperform Lectures and Paper Assignments .................................................................................................................. 519

Russell E. Phillips III, University of Pennsylvania at Greensburg

Students of Positive Psychology: Are They Flourishing? ................................................................................................... 520

Stacey Tantleff-Dunn, Stephanie Arredondo, and Andrew Luchner, Rollins College

Improving Undergraduates’ Understanding of the Skill-based Learning Fostered by Course-based Assignments ........................................................................................................................................ 521

Tanya S. Martini and Riley Roth, Brock University

It’s Time for the Talk: A Comparison of the Effects of Two Undergraduate Courses in Human Sexuality ........................................................................................................................................ 522

Claire Hooper, Camille Phillips, Dr. Leslie Angel, Dr. Terry Pettijohn II, and Dr. Andrew Terranova

Carroll College, Coastal Carolina University

Enriching Psychology Courses: Using Hands-on Real World Application to Promote Reflective to Promote Reflective to Promote Reflective Learners .................................................................................. 523

Sarah Wagner, Christopher Newport University

Gluttons for Punishment? The Impact of a Group Project, Cumulative Exams, Reading Quizzes, and iClickers in a Class of 400 Introductory Psychology Students .............................................................................. 524

Nicole J. Bies-Hernandez and Emily B. Craddock, Northern Arizona University

Mindset and Student Attitudes Toward Feedback .................................................................................................................. 525

Joan T. Bihun and Michelle L. Klein, University of Colorado Denver

The effect of publisher provided intermittent quizzing on student exam scores ........................................................................ 526

Kim Metz and Bob Humphries, Walsh University

Are Open Educational Resources Effective in Teaching Introduction to Psychology? ......................................................... 527

Charles M. Huffman and Judy Orton Grissett, Georgia Southwestern State University

The Effect of Professor “Hotness” and Gender on Student Ratings of Instruction .............................................................. 529

Kayla McCaleb, Sara Sohr-Preston, and Karen Phung, Southeastern Louisiana University

Stress and Turnover Intention in College Students: The Mediating Role of Burnout .................................................... 532

Bliss Quintana and Guillermo Wated, Barry University

Section XXIII, Statistics ....................................................................................................................................................... 536

What, another stats course? Students’ statistics efficacy in basic and advanced statistics classes. .................................................. 537

Karen Brakke, Spelman College

Elizabeth Reisinger Walker, Spelman College and Emory University

Does an effective team place you above the mean? The role of group cohesion in a Psychological Statistics course that emphasizes collaborative learning. .................................................................................. 541

H. David Smith and Ben Gorvine, Northwestern University

Effects of Targeted Troubleshooting Activities on Students Confidence In a Statistics Computer Lab .................................................. 542

Meredith A. Henry, The University of Alabama at Birmingham

Improving Statistics Learning for Psychology Majors ........................................................................................................ 543
Sara E. Branch, Hobart & William Smith Colleges
Examination Preparation of the Best and Poorest Students in Statistics .................................. 544

Roger E. Kirk, Baylor University
Enhancing Understanding of Statistics and Research Methods Through Online Workshops ............. 547
Linda Rueckert, Chris Merchant, and Maureen Erber, Northeastern Illinois University
Sharpening Quantitative Reasoning Skills in a Summer Psychology Course for High School Students ................................................................. 549
Kenneth Abrams, Carleton College
Apps to untangle undergraduate statistics: In-class polling and video lectures .......................... 550
M. Katrina Smith, Reinhardt University
Testing Statistics Knowledge without Calculations ........................................................................ 552
Marte Fallshore, Central Washington University

Section XXIV, Student Engagement/Motivation................................................................. 553
Reducing Student Incivility in Large Classrooms: Using Student Generated Learning Contracts to Create a Positive Learning Environment ......................................................... 554
Louise Chim, Martin Smith, Emanuela Yeung, and Marilyn Thorpe, University of Victoria
Encouraging Educational Psychology Students’ Motivation: Best Practices in Case Study Instruction .................................................................................................................. 556
Alyssa R. Gonzalez-DeHass, Florida Atlantic University – Jupiter.
Patricia P. Willems, Florida Atlantic University – Davie
Maria D. Vásquez-Colina, Florida Atlantic University – Boca Raton.
Use of Classroom Salon to Increase Student Engagement ...................................................... 560
Julia F. Heberle, Albright College
Motivating Students through Choice......................................................................................... 562
Shannon De Clute, Morningside College
Prioritize and Plan: Keys to Student Success at RMPA........................................................ 555
Bethany Fleck, Metropolitan State University of Denver
Rona J. McCall, Regis University
Chrislyn Randell, Metropolitan State University of Denver
Pluralistic Ignorance and the Motive Behind Student Requests for Trigger Warnings ............... 566
Jessica Salvatore, Sweet Briar College
Katherine Muschler, Macalester College
Success at the Crossroads of Affordability and Engagement ................................................ 567
Raechel Soicher, Bainbridge State College
The Student Motivation Tree: A Useful Heuristic for Psychology Instructors ....................... 571
Emily Anne Hallendy, Dara Shapiro, and Steven Meyers, Roosevelt University

Section XXV, Student Success ............................................................................................ 564
Why don’t they study? Faculty and students disagree about studying ...................................... 574
Karen Bendersky, Towson University
Kristina L. Dandy, Georgia College & State University
How to succeed in college: Incorporating teamwork and authentic learning in the classroom .......... 576
Rebekah Benjamin, Huntington University
Characteristics of the Test-Anxious Student: The Roles of Personality, Motivation, and Control Beliefs .................................................................................................................. 578
Tiffiny Pereira and Courtney A. Rocheleau, Metropolitan State University of Denver
First Time College Freshmen: The Importance of Health and Learning Skills ......................... 581
Nadia M. Al-Tabaa, Nicholas Vayer, Nicole Norelli, Timothy Kilcoyne, Alissa Carey, and Robert Durham
University of Colorado at Colorado Springs
Conscientiousness and the Intro Psych Student ................................................................. 584
Laura Freberg, California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo
Textbook Reading: Students' Perceptions of Noncompliance and What Would Help .................. 587
Mary Ellen Fromuth, Teresa Davis, Jeffery Bass, Milena Guerra, Charles Waller, Kristi Brown, and Kin Leong Chan, Middle Tennessee University
Is the Pen Mightier than the Keyboard?: Assessing Whether Distinct Types of Note-Taking Influence Retention ................................................................. 594
Keifer L. Weiland, Parker Sorenson, Brynna Boettcher, Jessica Olson, and Camille Knaphus, Utah Valley University
Time Management Helped Me Get an A: Students’ Perceived Benefits of a Time Management Assignment in an Introductory Psychology Course .................................................................. 596
Kayoung Kim, University of Wisconsin-Fond du Lac
Time Management Assignments in an Introductory Psychology Course Can Boost Students’ Performance .................................................................................. 599
Kayoung Kim, University of Wisconsin-Fond du Lac
Do We Do No Harm? Acknowledging the Unacknowledged Risks to the Psychology Student Researcher .................................................................................................................. 602
Karen Z. Naufel & Jessica A. Le, Georgia Southern University
Where did all the Studying Go? Getting through College with Little Investment ................. 605
Perri Druen & Randi Shedlosky-Shoemaker, York College of Pennsylvania
A Day in the Life of a Course Mentor: Competency-based Learning in an Online Educational Psychology Course ............................................................................. 606
Deanna K. Douglas and Anastasia Betts, Western Governors’ University
Building Confidence and Strengthening Exam Performance Using Bloom and Generic Study Guides ................................................................................................. 607
Kyle Hennings, Clarissa A. Thompson, Kent State University
Jefferay Nevid, St. John’s University
Critical Thinking and First-Generation College Students ................................................. 608
Victoria Symons Cross, University of California, Davis
Passion for Academic Activities: Does It Matter, and What Can We Do About It? ............ 609
Bryan K. Saville, James Madison University
How to put on a Successful Conference: Showcasing Student Research and Creativity ........ 603
Diane E. Wille and Todd M. Manson
Indiana University Southeast
The Influence of Framed Feedback on Self-Efficacy in a Mathematics Task ...................... 613
Kerry D. Duck and Michael M. Phillips, University of Northern Colorado
Section XXVI, Undergraduate Research ............................................................................... 616
But I was just a mentee! Becoming an undergraduate research mentor: A workshop for early career faculty ......................................................................................... 617
Krista Bridgmon, Colorado State University, Pueblo
Leslie D. Cramblet Alvarez, Adams State University
R. Eric Landrum, Boise State University
Do it again: APS research replication projects with students .............................................. 619
Natasha D. Tidwell & Sue Kraus, Fort Lewis College
Undergraduate Research at Small Institutions in the Southeast: Honoring Dr. L. Butler’s Legacy       621
Rihana S. Mason, Emmanuel College
Testing the Prototype of BRITE Lite (Brief Research Instruction through Experiments)       625
Sandra K. Webster, Westminster College
Alexander Bennett, Westminster College
Destiny Babjack, Ph.D, UnitedHealth Group
Anthony Zuccolotto, Psychology Software Tools
Section XXVII, Writing ........................................ 628
Using Music to Teach Students How to Paraphrase and Avoid Plagiarism       629
Rachelle Redmond Barnes, Winston-Salem State University
Batter Up! Using a Behavioral Rubric to Coach Students in the Development of Scientific
Writing Skills ........................................................................ 630
Kathleen P. Greenberg, State University of New York College at Old Westbury
What We Talk About When We Talk About Writing ........................................ 633
Ayla Moore & Michelle Bonanno, Fort Lewis College
How Can We Teach Our Students to Write Effectively About Research? ................................ 634
Stephanie B. Richman, Baldwin Wallace University
Tools of the Mind – Gender and Educational Differences ........................................ 638
Lindsey R. C. Sitz, Jessica M. Bittman, and Rachel N. McGill, Metropolitan State University of Denver